

Counties Manukau Orienteering Club (CMOC)

President's Report

2023/24

This Annual Performance Report covers the period 1 November 2023 through 30 June 2024. The reporting period is for a reduced number of months than usual as we have realigned our financial year (to July through June – please see Financial Performance Report 2023/24 for details) to reduce the complexity and competition of year-end administration through the holiday season.

Once again, I would like to commence our annual report by saying how proud we are to be a part of the team that leads possibly the highest performing, but definitely the coolest Orienteering Club in New Zealand!

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY - HIGHLIGHTS

The culture of innovation, and performance is strong within our communities in the Counties Manukau Orienteering Club (CMOC).

This year is the fourth and final term of our retiring President Anthony McGivern, who led Counties Manukau Orienteering for the past 4 years (the first 3 in a joint presidency capacity with Jo Wood) – we thank him for his many voluntary contributions to our communities; Club President and Chair, Series Director for the Schools Sprints, Event Director for the Eden Park Sprints (a new format event he designed and developed), heading up funding and commercial, Head Coach and Coach Developer of our Orienteering Performance Running programme, and regular volunteer at events run by CMOC (and other Clubs).

We are also always on the lookout for more volunteers to assist the core teams that deliver so much, to enable us to continue to operate a full programme of high quality events to our communities. Whatever skills you have, we can use, and if you want to participate more, we will provide full training (as required) if you are interested in mapping, running events, planning, or race control (timing) software management – or just volunteering and helping out.

Our 2025 calendar is currently in development, so please register your interest with info@CMOC.co.nz if you're keen to join our teams delivering school, community and Club events across the region!

We're a very strongly youth focused Club, and our new constitution (took effect from 1 July 2024), sets out clearly our purposes, and locks into place our commitment to raise funds for investment into helping our youth to access orienteering experience out of Auckland.

CMOC has an extremely high work rate, perhaps the highest level of output in the country per unit of Club resources; from the students that set our Southern Summer Series events gaining valuable/developmental experience as course designers/controllers and in coaching, to the families that turn up early to help set up our events and are still there to help collect controls afterwards – we have a strong Club, and want to keep improving.

II. A REFLECTION ON 4YRS FROM THE RETIRING PRESIDENT

Reaching the end of my fourth consecutive term as Club President, I must retire from this role per our constitution rules - a feature I deliberately added during our recent governance review, in order to grow and lock in a culture of succession planning and improved Club sustainability / high performance over the long-term with refreshed energy and new ideas.

It has been an incredible privilege to serve and lead the team(s) at Counties Manukau Orienteering, and over the past four years we have stood on the shoulders of the giants, to further build a legacy that I am personally very proud of. Here's a few thoughts from my tenure:

Jo Wood and I were elected in December 2020 as co-Presidents, a partnership that continued for three of the four years. 2020 was an interesting time given the progress of the Covid-19 Pandemic across the globe and NZ. It was a time of continual adaption as we worked with Sport NZ and Orienteering NZ to deliver the physical and mental health benefits of orienteering, in ways that ensured the safety of our communities.

Counties Manukau Orienteering has always had a very strong focus upon grass-root and youth orienteering.

One of the key themes of the past 4 years has been growing youth inclusion and engagement. We brought youth members onto our Club's leadership team, so that we can have our youth represented and learn from them, while also providing the opportunity for our youth to develop governance experience with access to experienced mentors.

In our first term, I led the integration of the three Auckland-region Club calendars into a single combined programme. NWOC and AOC have since taken turns co-ordinating, and this year I am mentoring Tim Baccus (the first youth member of the Club Executive) through the annual multi-Club calendar integration process.

We've also looked beyond orienteering, building intelligent partnerships across the sporting sector to learn from others, and also to share our knowledge. As a result of a growing reputation and strong contributions, Catherine Motion (2024 youth member of our Executive team) has been invited to participate in regional Sports Leadership Forums, and her input was well received and highly regarded by other Club executives from across Auckland.

During our recent constitution review, we finalised and 'locked in' our youth investment ("Academy") fund, with purposes captured in our constitution, to help our younger orienteers and their families access international orienteering training and development opportunities.

Breakfast TV features Orienteering

My second theme for the past 4 years has been Club sustainability; we've been deliberately working to broaden and deepen the skillsets within the Club to ensure not only organisational resilience but also continually improving operational performance.

In addition to administration and leadership options, we've been developing technology and coaching pathways that grow our youth as orienteers and a part of our orienteering delivery community, but also equip them with skills and character that will benefit them throughout their lives and careers.

We started orienteering performance running training in Auckland, teaching science-based running techniques and health knowledge for long-term and holistic high performance. This training has now been transformed into a co-led programme that offers our youth the opportunity to practise and develop their coaching skills.

And at the regional level we hosted a Controllers Clinic for the northern region, and also developed a Planners Clinic to build more skills for the future, and increase capability to deliver quality events.

We have also grown our mapping capabilities and volunteer base (but we're always looking for more volunteers to distribute the load).

The third theme is innovation. I've mentioned already that we like to learn, and we've built upon that by creating a culture and platform for innovation; exploring new ideas, and committing to continually improving performance and experiences. Members have developed new event formats such as the Eden Park Sprint, new technologies such as OTrax, and brought the best and most appropriate concepts from corporate world such as subcommittee structures, diversification of revenue streams, sustainable finance and integrated performance reporting to modernise and benefit our Club.

Across all this activity we've had an overlaying strategy of positively contributing to, and growing the brand of orienteering across New Zealand. Here Katherine Granich's successful local media uptake was crowned when we were invited to feature on national television's Breakfast Show.

I'm incredibly proud of all the results our Club has delivered, and am eagerly looking forward to see what comes next...

III. COUNTIES MANUKAU ORIENTEERING - EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

These are the 11 people that currently form our organisation's 'Board of Directors', our governance group if you will. They work with our national body Orienteering New Zealand (ONZ), approve regional strategy, and plan and co-ordinate the delivery of a record number of events to an incredible number of participants every year. We also regularly review and innovate, in order to deliver continually improved performance, events and experiences. Here are your team:

Part I – Operations

Our strategic and core focus is delivering orienteering and related activities primarily for the benefit of the communities (people that live, work, study or recreate) across the southern and eastern regions of the Auckland and northern Waikato.

In 2024, Counties Manukau Orienteering Club members delivered events to over 7,500 participants through our Term 1 School Sprint programme alone! An outstanding result considering the relatively small core base of volunteers that deliver most of the events. Some of the more significant activities delivered are discussed below.

1.0 COLLABORATION

The spirit of collaboration within orienteering is very healthy across the Auckland region and New Zealand.

We work with Auckland's north and west (NWOC), and central region (AOC) focused Clubs and also Orienteering Waikato (OW) to ensure our overall community's needs are met and optimised. We work together annually to develop an integrated plan, we then each take responsibility to deliver our respective and often aligned components.

However, almost every month there are examples of people, resources/technology and ideas being shared. We also, but less frequently, work together to co-deliver events such as a National Youth Development Camp, or King's Birthday Weekend.

At the national level we work with the Clubs across NZ to set a calendar for major events of at least 3 years out, ensuring an optimised programme for the country. Yet we also remain open to change to facilitate other Clubs' emerging opportunities (e.g. OBOP's access to the Crater Block map) where they arise, and there's improved benefit across the larger, longer-term perspective.

In addition to the support we give each other, we also have a healthy element of competition which spurs innovation and evolution... our leaders' role is to ensure that the competitive and collaborative forces remain in balance, to optimise growth of our sport as we learn from each other's good ideas so that everyone wins...

2.0 TRAINING DELIVERY

In addition to Val and Robbie Robinson – the Club bastions of running in-school training across Counties Manukau with a truly incredible work rate... a number of our younger members also for the first time organised and delivered training sessions.

Congratulations Dante Lee Choi, Fin Granich, Cameron Motion, Catherine Motion (assisted in the field by Anthony McGivern and Tony Motion) for delivering a half-day session to the incoming year 7s at Sancta Maria, and to Tim Bacchus for his training delivered to fellow students at St Kentigern College.

2.1. COACH TRAINING

We also facilitate training and development opportunities, so if you'd like to grow your coaching skills, or just give coaching a try to see if it's for you – please get in contact with the Club.

Congratulations to the four of our members (Dante Lee Choi, Scarlett Wardle, Catherine Motion and Cameron Motion) who attended a Coach Emerge programme this year.

3.0 INTELLIGENT SECTOR PARTNERSHIPS AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Counties Manukau Orienteering and our people are always open to learning and growing, in order to deliver continually improved outcomes and experiences for our participants, their supporters and also the volunteers that deliver our events.

To this effect we have put in place a number of relationships; local, regional and national, to provide us with support and resources, and also as thought and practice leaders where we can give back and provide input in order to benefit sport across Auckland and New Zealand.

Over the last year we have received regular updates upon emerging policy setting and regulatory change, taken part in webinars to keep updated and also shared our feedback when we have been consulted, or public submissions have been requested, including:

- provided input into the Auckland Council's new Long Term Plan (2024/34), a 10-year masterplan for activity and investment across our city,
- being invited to the regional Sports Clubs Leaders Forum to share our experiences with other executives and provide advice to Sports Governing Bodies,
- we're working with Sport NZ around Coach and Coach Developer training, and the building of Coaching Frameworks,

- attending professional development to further improve our governance (administrative, financial and legal compliance) skills and knowledge sets, and
- building a commercial relationships and funding calendar, improving our management of opportunities for benefit and partnerships.

4.0 CMOC’s COLLEGE SPRINT SERIES’

At the start of each year, CMOC deliver two in-school Sprint Series; one for the schools across the eastern suburbs, and a second to the schools in Auckland’s southern regions (led by Series’ Directors Anthony McGivern and John Robinson respectively). This year we delivered 13 events to over 7,500 participants, and the teams that deliver these events did another great job!

What you don’t know is the process of delivering these events commences in August of the year before. We have in fact already started organising and marketing the 2025 Series’

4.1. TRANSFORMATION OF THE EASTERN SERIES

Brian Long, the former Operations Director of our Eastern Sprint Series, flagged his retirement 2 years in advance. We spent that time redesigning the format, building a new team and growing capability, to replace the significant workload that he and Unni Lewis had previously delivered, as Brian steadily reduced his involvement. Finally in January of this year Brian moved to Christchurch – although we still claim him, having made him a life member of CMOC. A number of us still call, text or email to draw on his experience and wisdom.

2024 was the first year that the Eastern Sprints were run without Brian and Unni – and thanks to the new team, remained a great success growing to become the largest across the region and is a popular event for schools to host. The excellent relationships that we have continued to foster have in place result in more schools wanting to share their facilities and host an event, than we can accommodate each year.

We also trialled a new innovation this year – an idea suggested by one of our sector partners. Led by Scarlett Wardle (student, Sancta Maria College) and supported by a number of students (part of our Youth-leading-youth strategy), we recorded interviews with teachers, parents and participants – what did/didn’t they like, what they want to see more of, and ideas of things that they’d like to see us start doing.

Scarlette then put the clips together into a short movie that we shared with our funders and commercial partners and provided some real insights for our teams. Our ‘compliance reporting’ was never easier thanks to the students’ great work.

5.0 CLUB CAPABILITY DEVELOPMENT

CMOC have sometimes been referred to as an exporter of talent. We train people who leave to head off to other parts of NZ, university, or overseas. This will absolutely not stop us investing in people, but we do continually need new volunteers to come on board to refresh the group. Young or old, if you are keen, please come along to a Executive Committee meeting and/or have a talk to one of our team.

5.1. CONTROLLER CLINIC

This year (October 2023) Christo Peters (GM, OrienteeringNZ), Marquita Gelderman (IOF Controller, course tutor), and Anthony McGivern planned and delivered a Controllers Clinic for the northern region orienteering clubs.

Particular thanks to Marquita for delivering the Controller Course and very excellent content, to Russel Higham for the Health and Safety. Thanks to Robbie for organising the facilities and school access, and providing an example map, which Marquita then edited to create a practical challenge for the attendees.

Also thanks to all the attendees for bringing their A-game and all contributing, sharing their experiences and wisdom. There was a lot to learn not only from the presenters, but also from the experiences, ideas and perspectives of all the people in the room.

5.2. PLANNERS’ CLINIC

We’ve also developed a clinic to teach potential planners about course design – skills and knowledge that will help their competition thinking when on courses, and also build the resources that the Club has to call upon to plan, design and deliver events for our growing communities.

Unfortunately that had to be deferred to 2025 – but stay tuned to register your interest!

5.3. INVESTMENT IN YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

CMOC Academy is now established and up and running, and we disbursed a record amount of funds to members seeking to travel to train or compete, and improve their orienteering this year.

We love investing in our future leaders, when these people return to the Club bringing their experiences they’ll be part of a pool that will reach back to help others.

6.0 CMOC PERFORMANCE GEAR – BRAND REDESIGN

Over the past few months, we've also been executing a refresh of the CMOC performance gear range. Led by Sophie Bacchus (mentored by Finn Granich – developer of the Eden Park Sprint logo) they have been iterating and presenting continually refined options to the Executive Committee, and working with the latest fabric technologies so ensure that CMOC remains the coolest Club in the land. Here's a sneak peek of what our next generation gear could look like!

7.0 NORTHERN REGION CHAMPIONSHIPS (LABOUR WEEKEND)

Coming up this October, on Labour Weekend is the Northern Region Championship orienteering competition. With a new Sprint Map and some fun orienteering in little used Blocks of Waiuku – there's bound to be a lot of fun had! It doesn't matter how experienced you are, come along test yourself and get in some fun practise to hone your skills with this great opportunity.

Entries are open now!

Part II – Innovation

There are the tireless volunteers that deliver our operations, and there are also the people with a strategic lens, that drive the thinking, change and improvement from the conceptual ideas all the way into detail and reality. We also need these people to continually improve our status as a high-performing Club, contributing to the development of our participants, sport, and communities – building upon the past and today to create an even better tomorrow. These are some of our key workstreams:

8.0 EDEN PARK SPRINTS 2024

In its second year, and still a developing product we tested some changes at the 2024 Eden Park Sprint in June.

One such innovation was free buses provided to schools that met qualifying criteria – most notably bringing sufficient volume of students and teachers or parents to fill the bus. Using our resources to get a bulk discount and freeing the school's to focus upon increasing participation rather than organising logistics resulted in growth from 20 participating schools to 38, and 580 students – in just 12 months becoming one of our largest events of the calendar with schools from Bombay and Waiuku, and as far north as Orewa College making the trip to join in this unique experience.

The focus of the event remains upon the students across the Auckland region, and the event concept is about leveraging the iconic nature and reputation of our National Stadium to entice inactive or active (but non-orienteering) students to try out our sport, with the intention of engaging and capturing their interest and converting to ongoing participation – part of CMOC’s “for life” growth strategy.

With special permission from the EP management group, the Eden Park Sprint courses were able to lead participants through normally inaccessible areas such as the Coaching Boxes, the Visitor and Home Teams’ Changing Rooms. Through this phase of the course we paused the participants’ race times so they could take their time to explore these behind-the-scenes areas.

And as an incredibly rare opportunity, the course and participants were also permitted to run across the world-famous No. 1 Playing Field!

The courses and participants ultimately traversed entire stadium, from ground to the top (Level 6) of the South Stand. Keeping the students inside the facility, they weren’t going to get lost, however given the nature of the stadium there was a layer of complexity to identifying the optimal route to the controls quickly and accurately. Although some of the participants did find their way into interesting locations...

We again received incredibly positive feedback from students, parents, and teachers – which makes our day! We consider the event a success and are already working with the Eden Park team to plan for next year’s event – and we have a confidential heads up on some interesting new features that will be available for that event – watch Eden Park’s social media for more on these.

Special thanks to the following CMOC team members who put in countless volunteer hours to bring this event to life; Anthony McGivern (event director), Greg Bacchus (map developer), and Bryce Brighthouse (entry co-ordination). Additional thanks to CMOC team members delivering the operations on the day in particular Katherine Granich, Lyndsay Shuker, Rae Powell, Justine Edwards, Scarlette Wardle, Finn Granich, Catherine Motion, Sophie Bacchus and Ezra Granich.

9.0 OTRAX

What route did you take?

Want to see where everyone else went?

Club member Greg Bacchus is a software architect with a passion for exploring new technologies and applying them to his hobbies. Currently he’s continuing the development of orienteering route analysis application called OTrax.

By keeping the project local, OTrax can grow and evolve to focus specifically on what the New Zealand competitor and coaching communities need. Greg is eager to collaborate with anyone interested in using OTrax, aiming to understand their preferences and how the tool can be enhanced to serve both current and future use cases.

To facilitate orienteers getting their activities into OTrax, Greg has already integrated with Strava for super-simple activity import. Activities can also be easily uploaded from regular TCX, GPX, or FIT files. In the near future he is also hoping to complete direct import from Garmin Connect. With everyone's route choice loaded for the event, we will get a clearer picture of the challenges faced out on the course and find the perfect combination of speed in terrain. There is considerable potential to assist athletes, coaches and course planners and designers.

Greg is eager to communicate with anyone interested in contributing, particularly in documentation and communications, development, or sponsorship opportunities to keep the application 'running' and growing, as it is important to him to keep it free to use. He's also seeking feedback on what you think is an important feature, and what would work for you and improve your map and orienteering analysis. Get in touch and check out:

10.0 YOUTH LEADERSHIP

While we've been growing our Volunteers, Controllers, Planners particularly within the youth cohort, with our youth development pathways programme. We have also just commenced an Event Director shadow mentoring programme with 5 youth shadowing the Eastern Schools Sprint Series Director from start to finish of the Series, to grow their experience at that level.

Part III – Celebrating Success

Success is an individually defined attribute.

For some, it's delivering a great experience that tests, teaches and is fun for competitors, supporters and volunteers alike. For others, it's hanging out with their mates in a positive community, while others seek to build themselves towards competition on the world stage.

We aspire to provide for all, and celebrate everyone's development and contributions!

- photo above is of a group of friends based across NZ at different Clubs and/or schools, brought together by orienteering!

We've had a strong performance in field from Club members in competition events, and the results listing of top placing recipients is listed in Appendix 1. Particular congratulations to those that've been selected for teams selected to travel and represent overseas.

11.0 EUROPEAN YOUTH ORIENTEERING CHAMPIONSHIP (EYOC) 2024

This year from June 22nd to 24th, fourteen young New Zealanders travelled to Poland to participate in the European Youth Championships, including the following CMOC members:

- Tim Bacchus (M16)
- William Wood (M16)
- Niamh Hoare (W16), and
- Orla Hoare (W16)

The competition kicked off with the long-distance event, followed by a sprint competition through the Szczecin urban township. The course planners designed challenging routes that demanded quick decision-making.

The relay event concluded the European Youth Championships, an event marked by unique challenges, including sandy terrain in an arena.

Special thanks go to the team managers and everyone who supported the athletes in their journey to Poland and throughout the competition.

12.0 MID-YEAR CLUB AWARDS

There are a number of acknowledgements that we'd like to make at this AGM to celebrate some truly incredible and sustained contributions to Club, code and community.

12.1. CMOC PRESIDENT'S AWARD - SERVICES TO ORIENTEERING

2024's recipient the President's Award is Bryce Brighthouse.

Every year Bryce delivers an incredible amount of work behind the scenes that enables our events to operate, including;

- managing entries in advance of event day,
- running the race control / timing software on the day (including dealing with all the late and on-the-day entries), and
- organising all the results afterwards.

Bryce is one of the first to arrive at any event to set-up the technology centre, and of course one of the last to leave.

As a curious-learner Bryce is also continually innovating and extending the ways that we use and value we get from our application technology. Improved use of radio communications has provided event management with real time awareness of who's out in the field and how long they've been on their course, enabling much greater awareness and proactive safety management - especially of our more junior participants.

He's also developing skills capability and Club resilience by training other members in the use of the race control software, and as the icing on the cake, Bryce also finds the time to support the other Clubs across the Auckland-region, most recently at the Schools Relay Championship.

For dedication, innovation and collaboration - Bryce Brighthouse is 2024's recipient of Counties Manukau Orienteering's President's Award.

12.2. NEW LIFE MEMBERS

Tania Larson, has been an outstanding contributor to the Club over a very long period of time, the following achievements are just some to her name:

- has held 12 NZ elite titles in the long, also a number of sprint titles.
- International Orienteer of the Year in 2003 and 2007, also held the title as a team relay member 1996, and 1997
- set up the CMOC web presence,
- designed the current uniform, and
- has set or controlled events almost bi-annually for the last 30 years.

This is well overdue recognition.

The second Life Member we are celebrating today is Bryce Brighouse, for likewise outstanding contributions (see above) to the Club over an extended period of time!
